Overview – Plan & Strategy & Request for a Supporting Proclamation

Greetings,

Thank you for interest in improving financial awareness and financial literacy.

With so many people on the verge of running out of money before their life expectancy, many families burdened with large amounts of student loans and other forms of debt, and more than half of our adults not having up-to-date estate and financial plans to protect themselves and their families, we have a serious problem. This lack of financial awareness and financial literacy places a HUGE growing amount of pressure on families and friends, employers, nonprofits; as well as the ultimate safety net the state and federal government.

As a brief backgrounder, we are The Financial Awareness Foundation a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. The Foundation serves as a nonpolitical “financial awareness advocate” for the public, the financial service and nonprofit professionals and their organizations, educational institutions, municipalities, and employers.

Our mission is to significantly help solve a major social problem dealing with the lack of financial awareness and financial literacy. We believe that teaching financial literacy and the essential principles to smart financial management are very important. This gives people the tools to address everyday financial decisions in a more informed manner and have the best possibilities to reach and maintain their personal and financial goals, their financial freedom and security, while advancing their own personal philanthropy.

We are taking an active leadership role to recognize thought leading organizations and their professionals that are championing improving financial awareness and financial literacy. We are then uniting them with other associations, organizations, nonprofits, educational institutions, municipalities, and employers to actively focus their vast community resources into a growing concentrated personal finance content media blitz campaign every six months through the strategic venues of:

- National Financial Literacy Month (April)
- National Estate & Gift Planning Awareness Month/Week (3rd week in October)

The plan is to touch the majority of the general public, high net worth individuals, financial service and nonprofit professionals and their organizations at least twice a year through these strategic venues, with educational and motivating reminders to get and keep their financial, estate and gift plans in order.

The Foundation further delivers and develops exceptional educational content for the general public and for financial service and nonprofit professionals, and educational institutions that support the public’s financial and estate planning and charitable planning needs.

We are hard at work to become the ‘foundation of choice’ for improving financial awareness and financial literacy for the general public, and amongst the financial service and nonprofit professionals and their organizations, educational institutions, and the news media.

We understand that this is a massive undertaking. As we move into the 10th year it's being accomplished through leading organizations that include:

- Financial service associations and their members
- Nonprofit associations and their members
- Financial service professionals and their companies
- Nonprofits
- Employers
- Technology companies
- Educational institutions
- Government entities and municipalities
- News media

You can see many of the participating organization and their work within our latest Improving Financial Awareness & Literacy Movement Report & Magazine™ by clicking on the following link or pasting it in your browser.

Draft Proclamation Proclaiming - April as Financial Literacy Month & October as Estate & Gift Planning Awareness Month

Whereas, managing personal finances today is more complicated and more important than ever before. We're living longer, but we're saving less. We feel less secure in our jobs and homes than we did in the past. We see our money being drained by the high cost of housing, taxes, education, and health care. We worry about the future, or unfortunately in many cases, simply try not to think about it;

Whereas, careful financial and estate planning can greatly assist our citizens in accumulating and preserving assets built over a lifetime for the benefit of family, heirs, or charities;

Whereas, it is estimated that over 120 million Americans do not have up-to-date estate plans to protect themselves or their families in the event of sickness, accidents, or untimely death;

Whereas, a 2004 Roper poll commissioned by the American Institute for Certified Public Accountants found that two-thirds of Americans over age 65 believe they lack the knowledge necessary to adequately plan for retirement, and nearly one half of all Americans are unfamiliar with basic retirement tools, such as a 401K plan;

Whereas, estate planning involves many considerations, including safekeeping of important documents, documentation of assets, operation of law within the various states, preparation of legal instruments, insurance, availability of trust arrangements, charitable giving, inter vivos care of the benefactor, and other important factors;

Whereas, estate planning encourages timely decisions about the method of holding title to certain assets, the designation of beneficiaries, and the possible transfer of assets during the life of the benefactor;

Whereas, many citizens are unaware that lack of estate planning and 'financial literacy' may cause their assets to be taxed at maximum rates or, by default through the complex process of probate, to be disposed of to unintended parties;

Whereas, alternatives to disposition of assets after death, such as planned gift-giving, may accomplish a benefactor's goals and reduce the amount of an estate given to taxes;

Whereas, careful planning can prevent family members or other beneficiaries from being subjected to complex legal and administrative processes requiring significant expenditure of time, and greatly reduce confusion or even animosity among family members or other heirs upon the death of a loved one;

Whereas, important considerations as to donation of organs and use of life support functions may be made through the estate planning process;

Whereas, the implementation of an estate plan starts with sound education and planning, and then may require the proper drafting and execution of appropriate legal documents, including wills, trusts, and durable powers of attorney for asset management and health care;

Whereas, only 26 percent of 13- to 21-year olds reported that their parents actively taught them how to manage money;

Whereas, a 2002 survey by the National Council on Economic Education found that a decreasing number of States include personal finance in their education standards for students in kindergarten through grade 12;

Whereas, a 2002 study by the Jump$tart Coalition for Personal Financial Literacy found that high school seniors know even less about credit cards, retirement funds, insurance, and other personal finance basics than high school seniors did 5 years ago;

Whereas, 55 percent of college students acquire their first credit card during their first year in college, and 83 percent of college students have at least 1 credit card;

Whereas, personal savings as a percentage of personal income decreased from 7.5 percent in the early 1980s to 3.8 percent in 2014;

Whereas, today more than 50 million people in the United States participate in 401(k) plans;

Whereas, a 2002 Retirement Confidence Survey found that only 32 percent of workers surveyed have calculated how much money they will need to save for retirement;

Whereas, only 30 percent of those surveyed in a 2003 Employee Benefit Trend Study are confident in their ability to make the right financial decisions for themselves and their families, and 25 percent have done no specific financial planning;

Whereas, over 25,000,000 adults are unbanked, i.e., not using mainstream, insured financial institutions;

Whereas, Whereas millions of people in the United States derive great benefits from the wide variety of products and services offered by the financial services industry in the United States, and such financial products and services allow individuals and families to build homes, start businesses, finance educations, buy cars, and meet the everyday needs of everyday life;

Whereas, expanding access to the mainstream financial system provides individuals with lower cost, safer options for managing their finances and building wealth;

Whereas, a greater understanding and familiarity with financial markets and institutions will lead to increased economic activity and growth;

Whereas, financial education has been linked to lower delinquency rates for mortgage borrowers, higher participation and contribution rates in retirement plans, improved spending and saving habits, higher net worth, and positive knowledge, attitude, and behavior changes;

Whereas, financial literacy empowers individuals to make wise financial decisions and reduces the confusion of an increasingly complex economy;

Whereas, personal financial management skills and life-long habits develop during childhood;

Whereas, Whereas personal financial education is essential to ensure that individuals are prepared to manage money, credit, and debt, and become responsible workers, heads of households, investors, entrepreneurs, business leaders, and citizens;

Whereas, Congress found it important enough to ensure coordination of Federal financial literacy efforts and formulate a national strategy that it established the Financial Literacy and Education Commission in 2003 and designated the Office of Financial Education of the Department of the Treasury to provide support for the Commission, and to proclaim April as Financial Literacy Month, followed by a Presidential Proclamation signed by President Obama proclaiming April 2011 a National Financial Literacy Month;

Whereas, The House of Representatives encourages the distribution of estate planning information by professionals to all Americans and passed H. Res 1499 in 2008 proclaiming the third week in October as National Estate Planning Awareness Week;

Whereas, The Financial Awareness Foundation along with the leading professional associations such as: the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the American Academy of Attorney-CPA's, the American Bar Association Section of Real Property, Trust and Estate Law; the Society of Financial Service Professionals, the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys, The National Association of Charitable Gift Planners (CGP), National Association of Estate Planners and Councils, the Financial Planning Association®, the Association of Fundraising Professionals, and The International Association of Advisors in Philanthropy have supported National Financial Literacy Month and National Estate Planning Awareness Month/Week. Together these organizations represent nearly 1 million financial professionals. The accountants, attorneys, estate planners, financial planners and advisors, insurance agents and brokers, trust officers, and nonprofit executive directors and development officers that are members of these associations, can help mobilize the financial and estate planning and nonprofit communities by providing support, tools, and education for the professionals and the public they serve.

Whereas, April should be designated as 'Financial Literacy Month'; and October as 'Estate & Gift Planning Awareness Month'.

Now, therefore, I, _____, the _____ of _____ in support of The Improving Financial Awareness and Financial Literacy Movement do hereby proclaim April as Financial Literacy Month and October as Estate & Gift Planning Awareness Month.

With so many people on the path to or verge of running out of money before their life expectancy, many families burdened with large amounts of student loans and other forms of debt, and more than half of our adults (120 million) not having up-to-date estate and financial plans to protect themselves and their families, we have a serious problem. This lack of financial awareness and financial illiteracy epidemic places a HUGE growing amount of pressure on families and friends, employers, nonprofits; as well as the ultimate safety net - the state and federal government.

There is a real solution to this lack of financial awareness and financial illiteracy epidemic that revolves around better educating the general public, financial service and nonprofit professionals to the essential principles to smart personal financial management while motivating them to get and keep the financial and estate plans in order. People need access to better personal financial management tools and information, to communicate and work more effectively with their financial advisors, and to make better every day informed money decisions.
